HE BURNED A TOWN.

Action of an American Officer Renews the Insurrection in Bohol.

PEOPLE IN A RAGE FLY TO ARMS

Vigorous Protest Against the Alleged Arbitrary Exercise of Authority on the Part of the Civil Service Board.

Manilla, June 18.—Captain Andrew Rowan of the Nineteenth infantry is under investigation for the destruction of a town, and thereby causing an active renewal of the insurrection in the island of Bohol. A native who had assassinated a corporal was caught and killed. Captain Rowan then burned an adjacent town, and the people in a rage joined the insurgent chief, Sampson.

One hundred and fifty former United States soldiers, a majority of them being capable employes of the civil departments, have protested to General MacArthur against the alleged arbitrary exercise of discretionary authority on the part of the civil service board. The law gives the board discretion to make a rule requiring the examination of old employes, and the board has not announced whether it will or will not render these examinations. All the petitioners agree to resign rather than submit to examinations, and will accept private employment unless the matter is settled quickly. The members of the board say that since no action has been taken there has been no grievance. General MacArthur has requested the board to transmit to him a rule covering the point, for promulgation according to law.

The members of the civil service board say they have taken no action on the question involved, but have notified Lieutenant Colonel Crowder, the military governor's secretary, to send his clerks for examination. Colonel Crowder in reply asked for the certification of the rule under which the examination was required. Colonel Crowder says it would be inconvenient to spare the men, and that the requirement is unduly stringent at the present juncture.

Caillies' insurgent troops are beginning to rendezvous at Pagsanjan, Laguna province, whence they will proceed to Santa Cruz, on Laguna de Bay, to surrender. The Americans are evacuating Pagsanjan at Caillies' request. In the meanwhile the saloons in Laguna are closed.

Shot by a Minister.

Berkeley, Cal., June 18.—Dr. J. G. Jessup, a dentist, was shot and fatally wounded by Rev. Charles Adams, formerly an Episcopal minister. It is stated that Adams' daughter called Jessup by telephone and asked him to come to her home and prevent her father from whipping her. When Jessup arrived at the Adams house and remonstrated with him Adams drew a revolver and shot the dentist through the breast. Adams is in jail and Jessup is dying. Rev. Adams is well known in the east. He was ordained at Gambier, Knox county, O., and filled pulpits in Fremont, O., and Cincinnati. His last charge was St. Andrews in Oakland, from which church he was dismissed for intemperance. Adams says he was drunk when he did the shooting.

Minister Loomis Pleaded.

Paris, June 18.—Francis B. Loomis, until recently United States minister to Venezuela, said he was very much pleased at his appointment to the post of minister to Lisbon. His health had suffered by his stay in tropical Venezuela, and he considered his transfer to a European legation as being not merely an agreeable change but a promotion. He thought he was entitled to regard the appointment as an open expression of confidence on the part of the administration, which had unfalteringly supported him in the Venezuelan trouble. Mr. Loomis did not foresee ground for any renewal of the unpleasantness.

Chinese Soldiers Held Back.

Peking, June 18.—The foreign ministers have declined to assent to allow 3,000 Chinese soldiers to come to Peking now. They consider that it would be inadvisable to permit such a step to be taken before the latter part of August, by which time the international troops, with the exception of the legation guards, will have left the city. The ministers also declined to permit international troops to guard the Forbidden city until the Chinese soldiers shall arrive.

Colombian Rebellion.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 18.—Advices received here from Colombia say the rebels refuse to lay down their arms, owing to the ill treatment of political prisoners by government officers. Prominent prisoners were paraded through the principal towns as a warning to liberal sympathizers, and in view of the recrudescence of rebel activity in the interior the Colombian government has purchased the steamer Darien to be used as a gunboat.

SHORTAGE CHARGED.

Prominent Business Man Missing From an Ohio Town.

Akron, O., June 18.—The announcement was made that J. H. McCrum, treasurer of the Akron Varnish company, was missing, and that his accounts showed an overdraft of $4,500. This amount was found to have been taken from the company's funds in small sums at different times. Mr. and Mrs. McCrum were leaders in local society. Two weeks ago he left for the east ostensibly on a business trip. After leaving Akron nothing was heard from him.

Deadly Rise of Waters.

Richmond, Va., June 18.—A serious storm passed over the region adjacent to Big Stone Gap. There was high wind and torrential rain. Near Buchanan several horses were drowned in a meadow, and many acres of wheat are ruined. Heavy rains have fallen in many sections of the state for three days, and all streams are out of their banks. A cloudburst at Harrisonburg did $50,000 damage. Many houses were washed away, stores flooded and their stocks damaged. Albert Hilbert and Miss Etta Revercomb were drowned in Beaver creek, near Harrisonburg. Washington, McCormick, the ferryman at Caskie, on the James river, was drowned by his boat washing him away.

Bad For Jessie Morrison.

Eldorado, Kan., June 18.—It is considered that the state's case against Jessie Morrison has been made stronger at this trial by the introduction as evidence of several slips of paper upon which Mrs. Castle wrote as she lay on her dying bed. Her windpipe had been severed with the razor in Miss Morrison's hand, and she could communicate with those about her by writing only. This writing of the dying woman was introduced for two purposes: to show that she did not expect to live, and to corroborate her dying statement of her fight with Jessie Morrison.

Wool Conditions.

Boston, June 18.—No material change in the wool market has been noted here during the past week, except as the season advances fine wools show improved tone. Manufacturers are buying freely of wools for immediate use, but show no inclination to buy beyond their needs. The quotations in territory wools are unchanged, although several good sales have been registered during the past week. Fleece wools are quiet, with slow sales and prices nominal.

Rev. Keller Testifies.

New York, June 18.—The Rev. John Keller, who was shot by Thomas G. Barker in February last, was a witness in court in Jersey City against the man who had sought to take his life. He was assisted to the witness chair by court attendants. After stating he was 40 years old and unmarried and a minister of the gospel since 1886, Mr. Keller detailed the circumstances of the assault upon him as he was going from his home to the railway station.

Rumor About Botha.

London, June 18.—The Sun, which has not been overreliable on this subject, hears that Mr. Kruger has actually cabled to General Botha declining to concede anything, and that in consequence of this decision General Botha and the commandants agreeing with his peace views have decided to repudiate Mr. Kruger's authority, and a further consultation with Botha's representatives and Lord Kitchener will be arranged for next week.

Reformed Presbyterians.

Cincinnati, June 18.—The general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church has decided to meet on the third Wednesday of next May in the First Reformed Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. The different boards and committees have all been named. Professor H. M. Daily of Philadelphia presented the report of the foreign mission board, showing that the collections for this year amounted to $3,700.

Southern Town Burned.

Atlanta, June 18.—It is reported here that a large portion of the city of Greenville, S. C., has been swept away by fire. The manager of the telegraph office there advised Atlanta at 3 o'clock a. m. that a big fire was burning on both sides of him and that his office would be destroyed. After that communication was lost. Later it was reported that no lives were lost.

Buffalo, June 18.—John G. Milburn, attorney for Roland B. Molineux, resumed before the court of appeals his argument for an appeal on the conviction of his client for the murder of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams in New York in December, 1898.

RUSSIA STRIKES BACK

She Imposes High Rates on American White Resin and Bicycles.

ORDER TO TAKE EFFECT FRIDAY.

Action the Result of the Application of Tariff Restrictions Against Russian Petroleum—New Developments in Duties.

Washington, June 18.—The Russian ambassador, Count Cassini, has communicated to the state department that in consequence of the action of the American government, through a treasury order of March 9 last, applying tariff restrictions against Russian petroleum imported into this country, the Russian minister of finance, M. DeWitte, has issued an order dated June 7 imposing the high rate of the Russian schedule on American white resin, under article 82 of the Russian tariff law, and increasing the rate on American bicycles under article 173 of the Russian laws.

This action is entirely apart from that taken in connection with Russian sugar, and is a new development in the discriminatory duty imposed by this government and the retaliatory duties imposed by Russia. The order of the Russian minister is to take effect next Friday, or two weeks from the date of its issuance.

Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, June 18.—At the cabinet meeting there was desultory discussion of the Chinese settlement, the situation in the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico. The president is prepared to issue his proclamation declaring the abolition of duties between the United States and Porto Rico if the insular legislature at the extraordinary session, called for July 4, presents facts to him to sustain the claim that the revenues under the Hollander tax law makes the island self-sustaining. The cabinet believe that the Chinese settlement is close at hand. In talking of this settlement Secretary Hay suggested that the amounts voluntarily paid the American missionaries by Chinese provinces should be deducted from our aggregate claim of $25,000,000. The general sentiment of the cabinet seemed to favor this course, but no action was taken.

Rice Wills.

New York, June 18.—The hearing in the case of the two contested wills of William Marsh Rice, the millionaire, who, it is alleged, was poisoned to death, was called before Surrogate Fitzgerald. Lawyers representing the heirs and next of kin, Albert T. Patrick, Captain Baker and the executors of the two wills were in court. Lawyer Cantwell, representing Patrick, asked for a postponement until the first of October, on the ground that criminal proceedings against his client had not been disposed of. The motion was opposed by John M. Bowers on behalf of the executors of the first will, which was made in 1896. An adjournment was taken until Wednesday.

An Irish Exhibit.

St. Louis, June 18.—Steps toward forming a permanent organization to arrange an Irish exhibit for the Louisiana Purchase exposition have been taken at the meeting of the Irish National World's Fair association. The committee on mode and procedure, which was appointed at a former meeting, made an extensive report, in which it recommended that $600,000 be raised by subscription among Irishmen throughout the world for the exhibit.

Mrs. McKinley's Condition.

Washington, June 18.—Drs. Johnston and Rixey held a consultation at the White House, at the conclusion of which Dr. Johnston pronounced Mrs. McKinley out of danger and convalescing. He said that there may be, of course, a recurrence of her trouble, but for the present the danger is past. It is expected President and Mrs. McKinley will be able to leave for Canton by July 1.

French Submarine Boats.

Paris, June 18.—The new French submarine boats building will be furnished with double motors steam and electricity, similar to the fittings of the Holland, thus increasing their sphere of action and enabling them to plunge quicker than the Narval. The latter's recent experiments were unsatisfactory. The crew suffered greatly, and navigation on the surface was also defective.

Creed Revision Committee.

Pittsburg, June 18.—The creed revision committee appointed by the last general assembly of the Presbyterian church at Philadelphia met here behind closed doors, with a full attendance of members. It is expected the committee will be in session all week.

ON HIS WEDDING DAY.

Prospective Bridegroom Found Dead With a Bullet Wound in His Head.

Shamokin, Pa., June 18.—Daniel Richards, 20, of Green Ridge, was found dead on the porch of his intended bride at Mount Carmel with a bullet-hole in his right temple. Young Richards was to have been married Tuesday to Miss Elizabeth Walters, daughter of Harry Walters. The young man called at the Walters house Monday night, and shortly after 10 o'clock started for his home in Green Ridge, a distance of three miles. That was the last seen of him by any member of the family until his body was found on the porch. The weapon from which the fatal shot had been fired has not yet been found, and the police officials are working on the theory that Richards was murdered and his body carried to the Walters home. Miss Walters said that there had been no quarrel between them and that Richards appeared to be in unusually good spirits.

Alleged Attempt at Extortion.

Kansas City, June 18.—Judge Fisher, in Kansas City, Kan., called for trial the case of M. D. Beardon, who was postmaster of Bonners Springs, Kan., during the last administration of President Cleveland and who is charged with attempting to extort $1,000 from Frank Warner, a banker of that place. The prosecution rests on a threatening anonymous letter which Warner received through the mails on Feb. 25. The writer threatened to blow up Warner's house with dynamite unless he placed $1,000 in gold at a point on the outskirts of Bonner Springs. A bag containing slugs was deposited by the banker as directed. It was taken by Beardon and he was arrested.

McGraw Defiant.

Baltimore, June 18.—Manager John G. McGraw of the Baltimore American League club said that he had received a telegram from Hugh Jennings stating that he would play with the local club. "We will play Jennings at first base," said McGraw, "and President Johnson can then take such action as he sees fit. If it is deleterious to our interests we will endeavor to get an injunction restraining him from interfering with our players or with carrying out our part of the American league schedule."

Stonewall's Last Dispatch.

Hagerstown, Md., June 18.—Mrs. Jacob Dellinger found among some old papers in a trunk at her home, near Williamsport, this county, a copy of the last dispatch written by General Stonewall Jackson to General Lee before the battle of Chancellorsville. The dispatch is dated May 2, 1863, at 3 o'clock p. m., and states that the enemy had made a stand at Chancellorsville, and expressed the belief that a "kind Providence will bless us with success." The dispatch is signed "T. J. Jackson."

Negroes Swear Vengeance.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 18.—At a negro political meeting a mob of 100 or more negroes swore vengeance against the whites, declaring, it is said, that they would kill any white man who came into their district. They seized two streetcars that were passing and drove the motormen and conductors from their cars. The mob was dispersed on the arrival of the police in force. In the melee preceding the arrival of the police Will Cook, a young negro, was seriously wounded by a pistol ball.

Theft of Jewelry Charged.

New York, June 18.—Robert Pentecost, C. M. Brown and Thomas McCarthy, three clerks employed in a branch office of the Adams Express company, have been arrested, charged with the theft of $7,000 worth of jewelry. The theft was discovered by the manager of the branch office, who observed that the seals on two packages had been tampered with. Investigation disclosed the fact that 12 packages were missing, the aggregate valuation on which they were consigned being $7,000.

Minnesota Building.

Buffalo, June 18.—The Minnesota state building at the Pan-American grounds was dedicated Tuesday. Governor Vansant, with his staff, the Second battalion of the First Minnesota regiment, many members of the Minnesota Editorial association, with their families, and many others of that state were present. Light rain was falling, but this did not prevent the crowding of the Temple of Music, where the dedicatory exercises were held.

A Man Hunt.

Chillicothe, O., June 18.—Sheriff Devine and a large posse of farmers are scouring the woods north of here for a desperado who perpetrated a number of burglaries in this city and vicinity. At Kinnikinick he attempted to criminally assault Mrs. John Moss, who was sleeping alone over her store. It is reported the posse has the man surrounded in a thicket.

WORKMEN AND MILITIA

Pressmen Don't Believe In Utilizing Military Power In Strikes.

WILL NOT JOIN GUARD HEREAFTER.

Troubles at the National Cash Register Plant Adjusted and the Men Will Return to Work. Industrial World.

Washington, June 18.—The international printing pressmen, in convention here, decided that the pressmen would not hereafter join any state national guard organization, on the ground that they do not believe in utilizing that power in strikes, and that they have no sympathy with state interference in labor troubles.

Frederick Driscoll, commissioner of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, made an address before the convention. He urged the adoption of arbitration for the settlement of all differences, the practice of conciliation in making new scales, and the right of the publishers' representatives to be heard on all proposed changes in the laws affecting their interests.

Injunction Denied.

Trenton, June 18.—The court of errors and appeals denied the application on appeal of Calvin O. Gear and others for an injunction to restrain the absorption of the Boston and Montana and Butte and Boston Mining companies by the Amalgamated Copper company. This ends the case. It is understood here that the deal for the absorption of the Butte and Boston and Boston and Montana Mining companies by the Amalgamated Copper company will be consummated in New York before any more suits of the sort decided here can be started.

Labor Unions at War.

Denver, June 18.—In consequence of the refusal of the Hodcarriers' union to abandon the strike for higher wages in compliance with the action of the Building Trades council, the council has determined to exclude all unions of unskilled labor. The Hodcarriers' union will join the State Federation of Labor, and a war between the various labor organizations may ensue.

Cash Register Strike Settled.

Dayton, O., June 18.—The strike of the National Cash Register employes has been amicably settled. Over 2,600 men will return to work Wednesday morning. The settlement was the outcome of a conference between officers of the Cash Register company and representatives of the various labor unions.

Miners Go Out.

Washington, Pa., June 18.—The 500 employes of the Keystone colliery at Hudson, near here, went on strike because the company "docked" the outside men for the time the breaker was temporarily out of use.

A Brutal Murder.

Marshalltown, Ia., June 18.—At Union, just across the line in Hardin county, Mel Clemens killed Will Burgoft by stabbing him in the eye with an iron bar. It is said they had been bitter enemies for some time. Burgoft was sitting on a box on the sidewalk when Clemens came up and hit him on the head with a steel bar and then stabbed him in the eye with the bar. Burgoft lived two hours. Clemens was arrested and a mob endeavored to lynch him. He was finally placed safely in the county jail at Eldora. Lynching is feared and the jail is carefully guarded.

Princes Indicted.

Kansas City, June 18.—The grand jury indicted C. W. Prince, Will Prince and Bert Prince, father and brothers of Lulu Prince-Kennedy, as accessories to the murder of Philip Kennedy, for which Mrs. Kennedy was found guilty last Saturday and given a ten-year sentence. The Princes were arrested last February on information filed by Prosecutor Hadley. The father and Bert Prince were later released on bail, but Will Prince has remained in jail unable to furnish bond. The two Princes now out will be rearrested and compelled to give new bonds.

Council Up For Contempt.

Detroit, June 18.—Judge Brooke of the Wayne county circuit court decided that the 34 members of the common council should appear before him June 22 and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court. June 10 the council was served with a mandamus ordering them to pay a claim against the city of $1,750 for injury to property owned by the Ralph Phelps estate, owing to the building of the Fourteenth avenue bridge. The council failed to obey this summons.

PORTSMOUTH capitalists are organizing a company to start another shoe factory in that city, which will give our up-river sister city eight shoe factories. They know a good thing up there when they see it.

CHURCH RUMPS.

A Nicholasville Pastor and Some of His Flock Have a Fall Out.

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., June 15.—Rev. R. D. Bivens, pastor of the Methodist Church, was fined $5 and costs in the Police Court to-day for a breach of the peace.

For some time past rumors have been afloat concerning the conduct of Mr. Bivens, and his church appointed a committee to investigate the matter. When they called on him to talk the matter over it is said he assaulted one of them, Thomas Jacobs. Mr. Jacobs had Mr. Bivens arrested for breach of the peace, to which charge he pleaded guilty.

Mr. Bivens retaliated by swearing out a warrant for Mr. Jacobs, whose trial takes place Tuesday.

Bivens is a married man, his family residing in Covington. It is understood that his congregation will demand his resignation. The affair has caused no little excitement in the city and much interest is manifested in the trial of Mr. Jacobs.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Items of Interest Contributed by Our Country Correspondents.

ORANBURG, June 18th.—Bob Moody's house is nearing completion.

The heights around the village dressed in emerald hues and topped off with acres of daisies are a pretty sight.

Young turkeys are coming on very nicely and promise a heavy crop of the favorite material for Christmas dinners.

Postmaster Grant Wilson's wounded limb, received in a friendly scuffle with Charles Calvert, is healing nicely.

A great deal of tobacco plant setting has been done in the past few days, having had an exceptionally fine season for such work. The young plants are growing nicely.

The writer is in the grip of his ancient enemy, rheumatism, this week, which, combined with nervous prostration and petty annoyances, makes living almost unendurable. However, there are two consolations, one from holy writ and the other outside of it, to comfort him as follows: "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth," and you can't die until your time comes? "Keep a stiff upper lip," "never say die," is the way such visitations to defy.

Miss Mary Hefflin, Prof. Geo. H. Turnipseed's worthy assistant at the Rectorville school, is the pleasant guest of friends and relatives in Cincinnati.

Queer isn't it? Country people go to the city for their vacation, while city people are partial to the country. It is only a matter of taste, however.

The last stringer of the Dickson pike bridge at the "burg," was put down at 9:45 Monday morning of this week. The fact that Messrs. L. M. Collis, "Hawk" Coryell, Will Kennan, Oscar Mayhugh and others, are engaged in the work is a sufficient guarantee that the new bridge will soon be in position, snug, strong, tight and all right. Travel is not impeded, as there is a creek road parallel with the pike that can be used with very little inconvenience. The structure will be completed this week and will swell the list of new improvements which are just now being added to the valley village.

Ambrose Dickson, a jolly farmer living on the outskirts of town, had quite a chase after a gate that floated away on the high water last week. Owing to the swift current, it was not recovered until four miles down stream.

To witness the gathering of a load in Maysville from the front seat of the Mt. Carmel bus is an unique experience, with Mr. Paul Glascock handling the reins. From his expert way of catching packages thrown to him from side walks and store doors he would make a first-class base-ballist. And the people he knows! And the jokes that he cracks as he makes his rounds is enough to make a fellow's head swim! The notes, verbal messages, papers, packages and U. S. mail sacks, which gives him precedence on the road, are enough to confuse our careful, quiet, sociable driver who hangs up his hat at "Carmel." May his shadow never grow less, or lost bundles give him distress.

These drowsy, mid-summer days, thrilling with the hum of bees, fragrant with perfumes on every breeze, are busy days with a big B, at the recently completed important addition to the "burg," the Mayhugh & Collis flour mills. Everything is ready to begin and do things up in style except the cooper shop and storage bin and these can wait awhile. A quantity of barrels have been contracted for, enough to start up with. The men have been very busy setting the engine, jointing together a thirty-five foot smoke stack and other necessary preliminary work. The cistern also remains unfinished, having been kept full of water by heavy rains so as to entirely stop the excavating and blasting. A traveling machinist from Richmond, Ind., who is now in Kentucky, is billed here this week to fix things up.

Mrs. Eva Phillips, a widow who resides on the Dickson pike near the North Fork bridge, is having bad luck with her dogs, so much so, in fact, that at the present writing she is clear out of dogs! And strange to say they have all gone mad! One day last week while William Taylor was there helping her clean house, she noticed from the window her dog, frothing at the mouth, biting itself and cutting up all kinds of queer antics. As she had a mad dog killed from her place a few weeks before, she was not long in diagnosing the cause and requested Billy to kill it. He, good easy man, being afraid the dog would perform a dental operation on him which would result fatally, declined, but consented to get John Roe, a neighbor half a mile away, who shot the frenzied brute.

An unusually heavy rain last week caused the creek to rise so rapidly and to such a height that a gang of men had to work late into the night to save the lumber at Calvert's sawmill in the "burg." Charles Calvert has finished his contract sawing logs here and is now ready to go. He will move next to John Will Bramel's where he has quite a quantity to saw. By the time he is through there he will begin harvest with good looking Clarence in his favorite role, casting sly glances at the bewitching country girl as he moves along from farmstead to farmstead. If he don't look out some fair lassie will take him in out of the wet this summer, as he is just about the size for them "need him in their biz" as the "Goo-goo eyes" man says.

A large land terrapin, over a foot in diameter, which has been known in this neighborhood since 1852, was so badly burned by the conflagration of a brush heap, in which it had made its temporary abiding place, here recently, that it died. It was known and generally recognized in a radius of ten miles by the initials C. D., (Clem Davenport), accompanied by the date, 1852, carved on its back. It has been found at intervals for forty years past, and parties, after taking it home and feeding it bountifully for several days, would, with commendable humanity, carefully return it to its forest haunts. For nearly half a century "Old C. D." as it was called from the initials it wore, has roamed the forests, and there was genuine regret evidenced when the news of the fiery fatality was spread abroad.

If a strict observance of the old saying, "Keep your shop and your shop will keep you," adds to prosperity, Mr. Stevens, our blacksmith, should be on Easy Street. He is at his work from the time the mocking bird first whistles 'til the whip-poor-wills cry, skillfully repairing fractures, sprains and other mishaps to farming implements, and is always engaged in the useful work. The musical tink, tink, of his hammer, clear as a silver bell, vies with the tuneful mocking bird in melody, and mingles with his song. He never comes into "burg's" thickly settled portion except on business, and has been known to not visit the postoffice for six months, although residing in the village limits.

It was generally noticed last Wednesday evening, the 12th inst., that there was a veritable plague of bugs around the evening lamps of "burg." Candle moths, pinch bugs, many you'd like to lynch bugs, blue bugs, green bugs, yellow bugs, dirty bugs and clean bugs, not very often seen bugs, in fact, every imaginable kind, except those which as the song says, "Have no wings at all, but get there just the same," crawling, creeping, flying, sweeping around the blazes to fall scorched and dying, only to have their places filled by an innumerable host forging their way to places made vacant by their unfortunate companions, who in a few seconds' time joined them in the agonies of death. It was a matter of impossibility to read, or write, or sew, only sit and talk in the dark, as the nuisance could only be abated by putting out the light and retiring at an unearthly early hour.

Uncle Jonce McKay is still at the old stand, keeping tab on passers by, gleaned information and giving it when necessary. He is about the only gentleman of leisure in the village. Nothing to do but eat and sleep, his advanced age and bent form disqualifying him for manual labor. And best of all, his hunger's knell, is Dr. Hord's old dinner bell, when he goes quick with can and plate, and gets plenty of grub to eat; he's never too soon or too late,—right on the dot as sure as fate.

Henry Cooper, familiarly known as "Bing," is suffering severely with his dislocated left wrist, which became so painful he removed the splints. This will make the doctor's task harder, as it will take longer to heal and will certainly grow crooked without the support of splints and a sling. The writer knows whereof he speaks, as he had one bone in his forearm broken while coupling cars and kept it in splints and a sling for several months. There was more pain in the middle of the hand becoming sore than from the wound itself. It was also a very painful task to get the fingers to working again after their long inaction. His sympathy is with "Bing," but he will do well to return it to the splints and sling.

A quarryman, not a thousand miles from our village, is the owner of a dog which he always thought a great deal of, and a recent event has so endeared the dog to him that it's dollars to cents that if some wealthy party would offer him a cool thousand for him he would give him a cool negative. It seems the dog's master is employed at work where dynamite cartridges are used in blasting. A blast had just been set and the men retired to cover, when the dog, seeking a place to sit, chose of all others a place in the immediate vicinity of the cartridge. When the horror stricken owner saw his pet's peril he would have rushed to his rescue, regardless of consequences, but was restrained by his fellows.

When the blast went off, the dog, after a brief but spirited exhibition of queer gyrations in midair, returned to earth with a "dull, sickening thud." On carefully examining the remains his master found him in a comatose state, with abdomen so badly torn as to make it a matter of difficulty for him to hold his future rations, there being a possibility that he might never again enjoy a meal. Nothing daunted, his fearful master wrapped the animal carefully in his coat and took him home. His wife, a good hearted soul, who has some knowledge of surgery, after a critical examination sewed up the gaping wounds, applied a famous healing salve, and in a couple of weeks, strange to say, the dog was able to follow his usual avocations, which did not include, it was noticed, his daily visit to his master's scene of labor. His master is as proud of him as a man of his first born babe, and solemnly affirms that he would not take dozens of dollars for his dynamite dog.

EAST LIMESTONE, June 18.—Plenty of rain and tobacco setting continues.

Robert H. Williams, while gathering eggs recently in the dusk of the evening, was horrified by placing his hand on a large snake, coiled encoiled in the nest and much colder than the eggs. He called his dog Dan, who quickly dispatched his snakeship which measured about five feet in length.

Judge Newell and the County Surveyor were out Wednesday surveying the new Kennedy's Creek road. Superintendent Williams, together with a number of citizens, will open the new road Thursday and also repair the portion yet remaining in the creek. The citizens live in hopes that the day is not far distant when this useful road will entirely be removed from the creek which at times becomes a raging torrent, thereby wasting much useful time and labor, besides causing delay to travel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Williams returned from Newport Saturday where they had been called to attend the funeral and burial of the latter's brother, Squire S. N. Thornton, whose death occurred at his residence, June 12th, at 5 p. m., at the age of eighty-one years. He was a native of Pennsylvania, but came to Maysville in early manhood, where he was engaged in shoe manufacturing for a number of years, and where he was highly respected for his honorable and upright business qualities. In the early forties he was a member of the old Volunteer Fire Department of Cincinnati, his latter years being spent in Newport. Mr. Thornton had a number of old friends in Maysville and vicinity with whom he delighted to meet on his visits here and recall with them many happy incidents of younger days. He is survived by his widow (nee McDaniel) and an only daughter, Mrs. D. Babcock, of Newport, and an only sister, Mrs. Robert H. Williams, of this place. Religious exercises were conducted at the residence Friday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Mr. Whitehead, of the Presbyterian ministry, after which the remains were peacefully laid to rest in the beautiful Evergreen Cemetery. The family have the sympathy of their friends in their moments of gloom.

Though gloom has darkened thy pathway, The light at the end is brighter than day. There is One that is ever guiding thy footsteps, Who knows every foot of the way. There is a Power of most infinite wisdom, That ever thy footsteps attend. Thy gloom is the gloom of a moment, For there is an abundance of light at the end. And the light grows brighter and brighter. For those that shun wrong and love right, No sunlight is ever so radiantly fulgent. As that which succeeds the darkness of night.

COTTAGEVILLE, June 17th.—Plenty rain and farmers about done tobacco setting.

Wheat is looking well, with some little fallen. The young corn is doing very well. Some little damage by cut worms is reported.

Mrs. Mary Stuten and little daughter Georgia Elizabeth spent some time with relatives and friends here recently.

New Under Muslins!

There may be still a few score women in Maysville who do not buy underwear ready made at Hunt's, misguided women who think they are economizing by sewing at home. Measure, price, think it over. You'll find if your time is worth anything we are saving you a great deal of drudgery and the underwear actually cost next to nothing more than the price of the materials of which it is made. We have just received some attractive additions to the stock, which we are sure will interest you.

CROP PROSPECTS.

Past Week the Most Favorable of the Season—Condition of the Wheat, Corn, Tobacco and Fruits.

[Weekly Bulletin of the Weather Bureau]

The past week has been the most favorable of the season. Warm, showery weather prevailed over the greater portion of the State, the heaviest rainfall being in the southern portion.

Wheat is ripening and the harvest will begin this week in the southern and western portions; the prospect for an average crop is good in most places, but in some localities it will be very poor on account of drouth just before heading and damage by the Hessian fly.

The tobacco crop is practically all set. The acreage is less than usual, especially in the central and north-central portions, due to scarcity of plants and repeated attacks from cut worms; it is late, but is getting an excellent start.

Corn is late, but is now making a rapid growth. Oats headed low and, although in many places they have improved recently, they will be a short crop. Grass has improved rapidly. Gardens are making an excellent growth.

Apples are dropping badly, but other fruits are promising, peaches especially so. Irish potatoes are fine, but bugs are quite hard on them.

Farm work was delayed by rain in some sections, but is generally fairly well up.

The Portsmouth Times says the wife of George Thatcher, of Cincinnati, deserted him while here on a visit Sunday, and took the night train for Portsmouth. George followed on the next train and found her in a house good women never visit. They have returned to Cincinnati.

Curtis Williamson was before Judge Wadsworth Tuesday on a charge of disorderly conduct, the alleged offense consisting in impersonating an officer and arresting a young man named Curtis, from near Fern Leaf, Monday night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Williamson had on Policeman Thompson's helmet and also had that officer's "billy" when he made the arrest. Thompson claimed the helmet and club were taken from a table while he was eating a lunch in Glenn's saloon. Williamson pleaded guilty, but the Court, after hearing the proof, concluded it was more of a joke than anything else and dismissed the case.

KICKED TO DEATH.

A Mare Belonging to William Bradley Killed by Her Stable Mate.

Some months ago Mr. F. F. Gerbrich, dealer in pianos and organs, sold a bay mare to Mr. William Bradley, who lives on the Calvert farm, just east of the fair grounds. Since then the mare, when not at work or on pasture, has occupied a stall adjoining that of another mare owned by Mr. Bradley, the two animals being separated only by a pole.

One day last week Mr. Bradley and son returned from a long trip through the country, selling sewing machines. The trip was made in separate vehicles, drawn by the two mares. They traveled about forty miles the day of their return. On arriving at home they placed the mares in their accustomed stalls, the one driving the Gerbrich mare reaching home some time ahead of the other.

During the evening they heard a great racket in the stable and going hurriedly they found the Gerbrich mare was being kicked to death by her companion. Being haltered she was unable to escape the terrific blows. Mr. B. tried every way to put a stop to the unequal battle, finally clubbing the seemingly maddened animal with a tobacco stick. When he at last got the two separated, the Gerbrich mare sank to the ground and died soon afterwards. An examination showed that her side had been pounded almost to a jelly.

Mr. Bradley is unable to account for the vicious actions of the offending mare, as she had previously been of a gentle disposition. The two animals had stood side by side throughout the winter without having any trouble.

LICKING VALLEY OIL.

The Wells Recently Sunk Are Pouring Out Beyond All Expectations.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., June 12.—The oil wells in the eastern part of this county have been shot with nitro-glycerine, and they all show a steady flow of what is pronounced by experts to be a first-class lubricating oil. Three wells have already been sunk in this county, and just across the Licking river, in Rowan County, three others have been sunk. The wells, at a depth of 500 feet, had a flow of from forty to 110 barrels a day, and Indiana and Pennsylvania oil men predict that, with the proper development, this will be a great oil field. Eastern capitalists are leasing all available lands, paying as high as $1,000 per acre. The people in that end of the county are wild with excitement, and expect a great future for that part of Licking Valley.

TRESTLE GAVE WAY.

A Passenger Train Goes Into a Pond. Thirty Caught.

Hamlet, N. C., June 18.—The north-bound Seaboard Air Line Atlanta special turned broadside off a trestle into a pond about a mile north of Rockingham. Thirty passengers were more or less injured, several very seriously, and two, a white man and a negro, probably fatally. On account of the rains the piers of the trestle gave way on the left side. At the first crash all lights went out, and water rushed in waist deep through the windows. Baggage-master Smith, though seriously hurt, crawled out and, seizing a lantern, hobbled down the track and flagged a following freight, thereby preventing a second catastrophe. When the freight stopped he was lying on the ground unable to rise, but still waving his lantern. He had to be carried back on a stretcher.

Must Answer to Contempt.

Denver, June 18.—Rev. M. A. Rader, pastor of Grace M. E. church; Rev. W. H. Talmage, state superintendent of the Anti-saloon league, and Secretary Walter D. Wynkoop of the Christian Endeavor society of Denver, have been summoned to answer in Judge Palmer's division of the district court to the charge of contempt. I. P. Stauer, secretary of the Chesapeake Oyster house, swore to the charges. The defendants severely censured Judge Palmer for granting a temporary injunction against the enforcement of the Sunday closing law, charging that the judge is acting in collusion with the saloon-keepers.

No Hope For Pingree.

Detroit, June 18.—A special cablegram from London says of the condition of ex-Governor Pingree, who is seriously ill in that city: "Pingree is constantly asking when he can start home. Joe (his son) evades an answer, but he knows that there is no hope. The doctors say it is foolish for Mrs. Pingree to come. The ulceration of the bowels increases and no food can be retained. A change is expected in 24 hours. I am notifying the ambassador."

Crushed In Ice.

St. Johns, N. F., June 18.—Another fishing schooner, named Lady Clare, has been lost by being crushed in the ice in the Strait of Belle Isle. The 47 persons on board were rescued. Two other fishing vessels have reached St. Anthony. Their crews were in a destitute condition, having lost everything they possessed.

Destructive Windstorm.

Delaware, O., June 18.—A terrific windstorm swept over here, overturning several buildings and doing considerable damage generally. Boards from a lumber yard were driven into houses and carriages were carried 500 feet. It is not yet known whether there have been any casualties.

Dr. Kennedy's Bail.

New York, June 18.—Judge Newberger agreed to release Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy, who has been tried three times for the murder of Emmeline Reynolds, on $10,000 bail. Robert M. Moore, Kennedy's attorney, said the bail would be furnished at once.

Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee

Makes more cupfuls of better coffee to the pound than any of its imitations

Is prepared by an individual firm who made their reputation many years ago; who intend to maintain it as long as the people appreciate good, pure coffee, at an honest coffee price. If others imitate Arbuckles' coffee, that's their business; if you prefer an imitation coffee, that's your business. But you'll find that it's economy to pay a cent a pound more for Arbuckles' Ask the grocer for Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee, the original package coffee, and refuse imitations under any other name.

With each package of Arbuckles' Coffee you buy a definite part of some useful article (see list which each package contains). The article is yours whenever you present a certain number of signatures from the wrappers at our Notion Dept. Look for the list.
